From The President Betty Ann Horn

Fellow Officers and Members of the Illinois Fox Trotter Horse Association,

We really need your help please. We like to send out a newsletter more often but we are having trouble getting anyone to send us something to put in it. We would like to hear about what you are doing - upcoming horse shows or events in your area, new trails that we might try out, clinics you know about, those new babies that you have.

This is your newsletter too. I have sold a couple of saddles that I had for sale by advertising them in the classified section of your website. My friend Tami advertised a young coming 3 year old filly and she got her sold from the website. The website is free to all members so lets see what you have for sale and send it to our secretary Cheryl Crowdsdon (ccrowdsdon@gmail.com) for publication.

The more we put up the more people will continue to check out the website. Dressage, jumping, long distance riding, or being able to load a horse in a trailer we are interested. It is hard for us to know what is going on in the state as it covers so much ground so please help us to get the word out as to what is going on in our state.

Our annual meeting is coming up on October 19th in Springfield at the Golden Corral at 2 pm we would love to have you come and join us.

Your dues for 2015 can be paid at anytime as this helps us to get a head start on the forms that MFTHBA gives to us to fill out as to our members for 2015. In order for us to keep our affiliation we need to have at least 20 members that belong to both Illinois and Missouri Fox Trotter Associations. Thank You!

Your President, Betty Ann Horn

News:

Annual Membership Meeting and Election of Officers/BOD Sunday October 19, 2014 at 2:00 PM

It will be held at the Golden Corral in Springfield IL (1038 Lejune Drive)
Please plan to join us for lunch at 1:00 PM

They contain articles about the Illinois State Fair Society Horse Show that will appear in the MFTHBA Journal soon!

Youth Class at the Illinois State Fair

The 2014 Illinois State Fair Society Horse Show was held August 14-16th
Jeff and Yvonne Dehner donated $500.00 for the Youth Two Gait class.

Jeff encouraged the ten participants after the class and told them what a great job they all did. He thanked them for participating and told them they are all winners. He then presented them a trophy with $50.00 attached to it. Thank you Jeff and Yvonne!

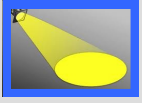

This is Sage Surratt's experience. She is Tara and Sam Surratt's ten year old daughter. In the above picture she is the first rider.

Illinois State Fair 2014

The Illinois State Fair is my favorite time of year. This year I showed my mom's horse Stretch. He is very experienced but still a challenge. My favorite part is beating my mom. The worst part is when my mom beats me. My mom says the best part is us working together and laughing together. I guess that is good too. The rides and entertainment are also a nice time when we are not showing. I would also like to thank Jeff and Yvonne Dehner for helping inspire other youth to be involved. The youth class was a lot of fun. So thank you to everyone who helped make this year so much fun.

Sage Surratt

Illinois State Fair Society Horse Show

The Illinois State Fair is one of my favorite shows to attend. Not only is it a horse show but an excellent way to promote our awesome breed.

There are non-horse people everywhere and they always want to stop, talk, ask questions, and pet our horses. We do a lot of photo opportunities for kids and parents. Most of the time it is the first time for the child to touch a horse, let alone be able to sit on one.

This year was one of my favorites. Two of my best friends (Maddie and Morgan Stigall) showed two of my horses. Maddie had only ridden Trax's Magical Brew a couple of times and Morgan had never been on Dirty Little Secret. After some ride time and pointers the girls and horses did awesome! I'm so proud of everyone! I also got to show my 3 year old Outlaws Icy Hot. We had a lot of good rides since June, but we finally came together and clicked at the state fair. I couldn't have asked for a young horse to do any better and handle the atmosphere. Whatever I asked, Icy did it. From showing in Halter, to winning performance classes, to winning two championship classes, Land of Lincoln and the Illinois State Fair Fox Trotter Championship. I was ecstatic!

I also had the pleasure of allowing two young ladies (Ashlyn Rhodes and Hallie Horsman) use Brew and Secret for the youth class. They have been interested in Fox Trotters and have been coming over to my farm to learn about them and how to ride them. They got to show in a very tough youth class. I'm so proud of Hallie and Ashlyn! They did excellent in a big, tough class. Ashlyn placed 2nd and Hallie placed 3rd. It was Ashlyn's 2nd time showing a Fox Trotter and Hallie's first time. Way to go girls!

None of this could have happened without awesome family and friends. They were the support system and helpers of the barn. A BIG thank you to them!

Our number 1 helper, who we dubbed the Chief Executive Assistant, was Buck Thompson. He not only made us laugh and helped keep us calm, but helped us get our horses tacked up, held our show coats, tack and horses. He did the final spit polish before entering the ring, hooted and hollered for everyone and he also showed his own horse. He was willing to climb up the stall to get an awesome photo of everyone. He always had a smile on his face and helped make the show a blast and we thank him so much for everything. The camaraderie of people, fantastic horses, generosity of people and fun times make a horse show worthwhile.

Becoming a Helmet Advocate

HORSE TRAINER ZANE VOLKMANN, FEATURED IN THE SEPTEMBER AMERICA'S Horse, calls his riding helmet an "anti-watermelon cracker."

Zane, who suffered a brain injury two years ago while riding, spent part of his summer college-related internship encouraging horseback riders to wear a helmet.

"You put on your seatbelt every day you get in a car," Zane says. "So put on your helmet every time you get on your horse."

More Americans die from horseback accidents than motorcycle and racecar driving accidents each year, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The CDC says death is four times more likely for brain injury victims after a second fall. And that's why Zane is determined to spread the word to wear a helmet.

Wear a hard-shell equestrian-approved helmet lined with expanded polystyrene or similar material. A bike-riding helmet should not be substituted. And make sure it fits securely, Zane says.

If your helmet is damaged, replace it. Helmets cost less than $30 at major retailers. Helmets from farm supply and tack stores may cost more, but "you get what you pay for," Zane says.

He knows the helmet isn't as sexy as his cowboy hat, and sometimes he takes a ribbing from his cowboy buddies about it. But they are catching on to the reasons why helmets matter.

"I'll be here tomorrow. It don't matter how I look," Zane says. "I'm still doing what I love."

FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI EXTENSION

Zane Volkmann, right, talks about helmet safety with state labor and safety officials at the Missouri State Fair. A video about Zane's participation in the AgrAbility program (hosted by the University of Missouri Extension) plays in the background. Learn more at agrability.missouri.edu.

From America's Horse magazine October 2014 issue

When asked if we could have permission to use this article taken from America's Horse magazine, here is the answer I got from Linda Geist of the University of Missouri: "Absolutely! I would be honored for you to use. Thanks for spreading the word about helmet safety. Zane's a great young man." Linda
